Mental Health First Aid Trainer of the Year – Monica Simpson

Welcome to the 2023 Annual Conference for Behavioral Health!

I want to start by thanking you all for the incredible work you have done over the last year. From the aftermath of the pandemic to the continuing effects of social media on children and families to the transformation of our entire system to the Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic (CCBHC) model, the last year has been a lot.

In many years, I have started off my comments to our conference attendees by jokingly commenting, "So what's new with you all?" In those years, it was barely funny as the sarcastic implication is intended to recognize how busy you all are and how driven you are to improve the lives of the people treated or served by our system. This year that joke would fall flat for sure and potentially and justifiably result in the throwing of rotting fruits or vegetables at me. The transformation of our whole system to the CCBHC model along with a staggering workforce shortage has resulted in an exhausting pace.

As we work to influence and improve the communities in our state with our vision and values, it becomes very easy to be distracted or pulled in multiple directions at once. Sometimes that is unavoidable as urgent or emergent situations are part of the responses our system may need to provide. As U.S. Senator Roger Marshall recently commented in a Senate committee hearing on Capital Hill, "We must value what we measure and measure what we value." To this end, our focus going forward will be establishing and sustaining the excellence of the Kansas behavioral health safety net through ensuring timely access to high quality services, providing premiere training and education opportunities, and being an incubator of innovation. Continued focus on these areas will lead us to being an elite system that is not only sought out for treatment and services but as a destination for learning and employment.

We would like to highlight and express our appreciation to our 2023 conference sponsors. The Association is able to provide this learning opportunity because of the valued partnership between our organization and our sponsors such as the Platinum Sponsors including Conrade Insurance Group, Kansas Department for Aging and Disability Services, Aetna Better Health, innovaTel, UnitedHealthcare Community Plan of Kansas, Caresource, Sunflower Health Plan, and Molina Healthcare; Gold Sponsors including HealthSource Integrated Solutions and Compliance One, Camber Children's Mental Health, Teva Pharmaceuticals, Mid-America Addiction Technology Transfer Center, and Netsmart; Evening Reception Sponsor Molina Healthcare; Refreshment Break Sponsors including Ucare and CareSource; Silver Sponsors including Ucare, Mid-America Mental Health Technology Transfer Center, Neurocrine Biosciences, Johnson County Mental Health Center, and Integrated Psychiatric Consultants; and Bronze Sponsors including Bert Nash Community Mental Health Center, Qualifacts, Eleos Health, Johnson and Johnson Health Care Systems, Inc., Streamline Healthcare Solutions, Centurion Health, Mission Driven Data, Valley Hope Addiction Treatment, Mirah, and University of Kansas School of Social Welfare.

We hope that the next several days provide you with education, connection, and a bit of an opportunity to exhale. You have earned it. Enjoy the conference.

Best always,

yle llen h

Kyle Kessler Executvie Director, Association of Community Mental Health Centers of Kansas

THANK YOU SPONSORS!

Featured Speakers

Chuck Ingoglia

Chuck is the president and CEO for the National Council for Mental Wellbeing. With more than 20 years of experience in behavioral health, he has worked as a provider, advocate, and educator for government and public sector organizations.

Prior to becoming President and CEO of the National Council for Behavioral Health, he served as the Senior VP of Public Policy and Practice Improvement. He also serves as adjunct faculty at the George Washington University Graduate School of Political Management.

Ed O'Malley

Ed O'Malley is president and CEO of the Kansas Health Foundation. He founded the Kansas Leadership Center in 2007, serving as president and CEO for 15 years. A former Kansas state legislator and gubernatorial aide, Ed has co-authored three previous books including Your Leadership Edge and For the Common Good.

Hasan Davis

Hasan believes that each child can and will succeed if the adults in their world create hope. His journey as a Hope Dealer began as an Upward Bound counselor and a teaching artist and continued through his years as a violence prevention specialist and as Commissioner of Juvenile Justice for the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Today, as a speaker, author, and coach, Hasan supports Hope Dealers across the world as they work to ensure all children are safe, healthy, and supported on their path to success.

Briana Nelson Goff

Dr. Briana Nelson Goff is a professor at Kansas State University, in Manhattan, Kansas. Her clinical experience and research focus on primary and secondary traumatic stress symptoms in couples and families.

During her 30-year career, Dr. Nelson Goff worked with hundreds of people through her research and clinical work. Each one impacted her work, teaching her about resilience, hope, and healing from trauma, which led to authoring her first book, Bulletproof Vows: Stories of Couples Navigating Military Deployments and Life's Battles (January 2023, New Degree Press).

OVERVIEW

The Annual Conference for Behavioral Health provides educational opportunities to increase awareness of emerging trends, build skills and knowledge to provide behavioral health care, and advocate for policy change.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Behavioral health providers including executive leaders, physicians, clinicians, nurses, social workers, therapists, and other healthcare providers

OBJECTIVES

At the completion of this conference, participants should be able to:

- Apply best and emerging practices in the provision of mental and behavioral health services and treatment of substance use disorders, grief disorder, ADHD, and trauma
- Describe the key components of the CCBHC model; summarize the program and reporting requirements; and describe approaches to measuring productivity within a CCBHC
- Summarize the key tenets of care coordination
- Explain the vision of peer services in Kansas, and summarize the status of youth and adult peer services programs in Kansas
- Manage and navigate sensitive conversations about race, equity, and the human experience
- Implement effective leadership
- Explain the significance of the intersection of mental health and the criminal justice system and identify promising practices to support consumers engaged in both systems
- List ethical concerns that may arise during treatment
- Describe the evidence-base practices of ART and IPS
- Summarize the status of various crisis programs in Kansas including 988, youth crisis, and mobile crisis response

Note: At program publishing, the full credit amount has not yet been fully calculated. A hardcopy addendum containing the full credit statement, speaker disclosures and instructions will be provided at the start of the conference. The addendum will also be added to the conference app, acmhck.org website, and program e-version at the start of the conference.

Combat workforce challenges with innovaTel Telepsychiatry

"Prior to the start of our partnership with innovaTel in August of 2019, we experienced seasons where we only had one psychiatrist serving our entire agency, which required us to rely heavily on locum providers. Recruiting psychiatrists to rural and frontier areas is incredibly difficult."

-Walt Hill, CEO of High Plains Mental Health Center
